FOUNDATION

2017 ANNUAL REPORT

Helping students find their path at Cabrillo College.

As Cabrillo College undertakes dramatic educational reform in the form of Guided Pathways, the Monterey Peninsula Foundation helps with a $240,000 grant to fund the first year of this profound collaboration between student services and instruction, to assist students like never before (see the full story on page 5).

EXECUTIVE MESSAGE

"The Cabrillo College Foundation finds continued success, because we stay focused on our mission to help students get the best education possible."

— Leola Lapides, Cabrillo College Foundation President

The Cabrillo College Foundation is passionate about helping students succeed! We aim to provide the most to Cabrillo possible through a robust scholarship program, grant support to faculty and programs, and funding for student services such as tutoring and foster youth programs. Last year, the foundation was able to provide Cabrillo with $2,632,008 from a community that is as excited and hopeful for our students as we are. A big thank you to the community that supports our life-changing work!

There are some big changes coming for Cabrillo College in 2018. With help from the Monterey Peninsula Foundation, Cabrillo College is embarking on institution-wide changes to help students graduate more quickly. In addition, the Cabrillo College Foundation bids a fond farewell to Cabrillo's President Laurel Jones, who retires at the end of 2017. She has been a great partner to the foundation, supporting our mission to raise funds for our students.

"Education has always been my calling and my passion. Working with all of our wonderful foundation members and the extended community has been part of my professional joy. It's inspiring to collaborate with those who know how profoundly education can change a life and our foundation has continued to inspire me every day. Thank you for supporting my service and for your support of this great institution. I know great things will continue to come to our Cabrillo College and the community it serves."

— Laurel Jones, Cabrillo College President

SCHOLARSHIPS

Cabrillo College awarded 1,256 scholarships to students last year totaling $979,527.

This critical support eases the financial burden of attaining an education for students and their families. Scholarship recipients often express their wish to support students like them when they are financially able. One former student, Astrid Atkinson, now an Engineering Director at Google, made that wish a reality when she funded the STEM Endowed Scholarship for Women.

"I was a student at Cabrillo for several years after moving to the US, and much of what I learned (from art to math to philosophy) contributed to my later career success in unexpected ways. Community colleges play a critical role in helping people change the trajectory of their careers and of their lives, and I learned so much from the diverse people and communities I met through Cabrillo. In the tech industry those diverse voices aren't as well represented as any of us would like, and I started this scholarship as a way to support and encourage people seeking to enter STEM disciplines."

— Astrid Atkinson

Monterey Peninsula Foundation paves the way for Student Success.

Cabrillo College is one of 20 California Community Colleges to be part of the Guided Pathways Project, a venture designed to substantially increase the number of students who earn a certificate, degree, or transfer. Guided Pathways is a complete restructuring of Cabrillo's processes to better serve our students and improve completion rates. The California Community College Chancellor's Office has earmarked $150 million for this initiative for the next five years, but Cabrillo urgently needed funding for the pilot year. Monterey Peninsula Foundation stepped up to the plate and awarded $240,000 to kick-start the first year.

"The Monterey Peninsula Foundation is so proud to partner with Cabrillo on this campus-wide program. By funding the inaugural year of this initiative, we are able to help properly launch this program until state funding kicks in. We hope this new approach will have far reaching success and give all of our community's students a rewarding college experience. "

— Steve John, CEO of Monterey Peninsula Foundation

Guided Pathways will:

- Help students choose a path: student intake will include career and college exploration
- Get students on a path: paths will be clearly scheduled and sequenced
- Keep students on a path: student services will monitor and support student progress

"In the next three years, we will examine and redesign the entire student experience at Cabrillo College — from admission and orientation to teaching and learning and ultimately graduation. As a college, we are determined to help all of our students succeed and reach their educational goal in a timely manner. With funding from the Monterey Peninsula Foundation, we'll be able to chart a course for success to help not just students at Cabrillo, but eventually students at all of California's community colleges."

— Isabel O'Connor, PhD, Dean for Guided Pathways

AMERICAN DREAM

Scholarship, Achievement and Promise.

George Ow, Jr. delivered an inspiring speech along with 108 scholarships to deserving Santa Cruz County high school seniors embarking on their college experience at Cabrillo. Each student received a medallion engraved with their name and "Scholarship, Achievement and Promise," which is George and his family's wish for all these students. The Ow Family continues to make this ambition a reality for many students.

"Looking at you young people, you inspire me, to see you all so full of promise. When I started community college, I was just like you: ready to get started – excited. In my community college days, I learned so much. Your teachers at Cabrillo will teach you well and want you to learn. I hope you go as far you can go."

— George Ow, Jr.

FACULTY GRANTS FOR STUDENT SUCCESS

Cabrillo's faculty and staff are the heart and soul of the college and the foundation is proud to support their efforts in the classroom and beyond with grant programs that enhance student learning.

Faculty annually submit proposals that are reviewed by a committee of faculty and foundation board members. Last year, nearly $55,000 was awarded to 26 projects submitted by faculty and staff. One $12,000 grant that supports learning every day was awarded to our tutoring programs to help maintain their Polyhedral System. "Poly" is a computer tracking system where students sign in for tutoring. It streamlines the process of assigning tutoring and tracks the hours of tutoring received, by date, time, tutor, and subject. Utilizing Poly in the Hub, Stem Center, and Watsonville Integrated Learning Center is familiar and easy for the students. Data collected from Poly can be integrated with information from the college database to obtain more detailed statistics regarding retention and completion. Many students see a 20% grade improvement when they use tutoring services.

"'Poly' is student-oriented. Students know they will get help in a timely manner, they can request the tutor they want, and the tutor comes to them. Plus, the data collected is extremely beneficial."

— Lori Chavez, Tutoring Center Coordinator

"I want to thank everyone who has made it possible for this program to be available to us at Cabrillo."

— Jamie Pyle, 2017 WES Recipient

WOMEN'S EDUCATIONAL SUCCESS (WES)

"Supporting Women's Educational Success (WES) is one of the best ways of helping a student in need! The funds are received quickly and with no-red tape, allowing recipients to get back to their studies and succeed. I'm happy to co-chair this wonderful committee!"

— Carolyn Mecozzi, WES Co-Chair

Women's Educational Success (WES) puts emergency funding in the hands of a student with an unexpected expense — like Jamie Pyle, who received a grant to help with needed car repair. Jamie Pyle is a single mom with an ambitious dream of starting a non-profit someday. Working on her business degree, caring for her sick mother and getting her children to school was already daunting, but when her car needed new tires, she wasn't sure how to proceed. "I was really in a predicament. I never got my high school diploma, so I was not eligible for Financial Aid," Jamie explained. She was awarded an emergency WES grant of $750 that helped her stay on the road and in school.

This year the WES Committee is pleased to award $68,000 — the most ever! The Wedeen Hammer Group at Morgan Stanley has teamed with the Sharanam Foundation with a gift of $10,000 to match gifts to WES of $250 or more.

LEGACY GIFTS

Legacy Gifts — planning today to help tomorrow's students.

Setting up an estate plan that includes Cabrillo College is easy. You can specify the area you want to support or leave your gift unrestricted so it can go toward the areas of greatest need. We are here to assist you in planning your financial future to achieve the greatest benefit for you, your family and Cabrillo College.

Below are a few of Cabrillo's Heritage Club members sharing why they choose to support Cabrillo with a legacy gift.

"For both of us, our community college education stands out as one of the most important experiences that shaped our adult lives. Community college is an affordable educational opportunity that we feel is important to support. The endowed scholarship fund we provided celebrates Rick's sister's lifetime commitment to education."

— Rick and Ruth Moe

"After struggling academically in high school, Cabrillo College offered me an opportunity to get my education back on track. The teachers, staff, and students at Cabrillo offered me enough support to transfer to University of California Berkeley and eventually earn a Master of Science. Now that I am able, I am happy to reinvest in a college that gave me so much."

— Hayley Levanthal

"My three diplomas from Cabrillo hang proudly above my kitchen table, but my Bryn Mawr College one remains rolled up in a drawer. I'd seen flying buttresses in Europe, drew them in my AH 101 notebook at my first college, but never knew what they DID until Western Civilization with Michael Mangin, when he created a human replica using students. Now that is TEACHING!

Plus, Cabrillo's charitable annuity is a terrific win/win instrument for both me and Cabrillo!"

— Jane Walton

CABRILLO ADVANCEMENT PROGRAM (CAP)

Cabrillo Advancement Program loses “La Madrina”, Barbara Samper 1943–2017

“I want to be remembered for changing students’ lives through education.”

— Barbara Samper

Barbara Samper, Cabrillo’s largest individual donor, passed away this spring. Her legacy at Cabrillo will resonate for generations, both as a benefactor of the Cabrillo Advancement Program (CAP) and her support of Cabrillo College Commitment scholarships for motivated high school seniors. She was a powerhouse whose life spanned from homemaker living in South America, to business owner, to philanthropist.

Barbara was also instrumental in the success of the CAP program. CAP is an innovative mentoring program, which aims to support local disadvantaged students from middle through high school to encourage them to attend Cabrillo. Barbara believed fiercely in the CAP program as a way to improve the prospects of our local youth. She loved being referred to as “La Madrina” or Godmother to the program and cherished the letters she received from grateful students. She will be missed.

PRESIDENT'S CIRCLE

The President's Circle offers an opportunity to join a distinguished group of alumni and friends, whose annual support of $1,000 or more makes a crucial difference to our students.

Each year, President's Circle members support the Cabrillo Foundation operations and enable the foundation to raise money to support scholarships, faculty and departments at Cabrillo.

Please join us!

"I support the community college system because of my experience with community college. Jumping from high school to a 4-year university can be very intimidating. I would have been lost had I elected to do that. Starting at a community college gave me the maturity and confidence to go from a C+ high school student to a member of a national honor society. And from there eventually to Stanford."

— Mahlon Foote, President's Circle Committee Co-Chair

HOMECOMING 2017

On Saturday, September 23, 2017 an enthusiastic group of Cabrillo alumni and friends gathered for a Homecoming Celebration to kick-off our Cabrillo Alumni Association.

After posing and dancing with Sammy the Seahawk, guests were tickled to learn that it was none other than Cabrillo College President Laurel Jones sporting the furry costume! President Jones welcomed alumni back to campus and thanked them for being a part of the Cabrillo Family.

This is just the beginning for this new group.
To sign up for the Cabrillo Alumni Association visit:
cabrillo.edu/associations/foundation or email
foundation@cabrillo.edu

"I celebrate the launch of the Cabrillo Alumni Association. As it was with me, Cabrillo continues to be the premier option for many of our local youth, and community members in general, as they pursue college and career options. Cabrillo College: affordable, accessible, and attainable."
